

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. William Russell Masie and Miss Ella Buck have sent out invitations for a dance to be given in the ballroom of the Jefferson hotel on the evening of Thursday, January 23, at 9 o'clock. The dance will be one of the most interesting affairs of the late winter season, and the decorations will be most elaborate.

Miss Eliza Fielding Miles, of the University of Virginia, will arrive in Richmond on Monday for a brief visit to friends here. Miss Miles is en route for Norfolk, where she will be the guest of Mrs. Richard Taylor for several weeks.

Mrs. Missaiah Woods and her daughter, Miss Lillian Woods, also of the University of Virginia, came to Richmond this week and are the guests of Mrs. Charles Bolling, on West Grace street. Mrs. Woods and her daughter will spend the remainder of the winter in Richmond.

And if there were some few superstitious quailings they were forgotten in admiration of the really exquisite effect.

That was not the only "novelty," for the dance committee branched away from stereotyped ideas, and having braved superstition, braved precedent as well, and served a hot breakfast at 4 o'clock in the morning. Hot sausage, burkhead cakes and coffee proved welcome at dawn and all voted it a success.

The dance was a subscription affair, arranged by a committee of young people, some of the older girls and the dancing men. The decorations used were quantities of smilax, which completely screened the walls, and orange-shaded lights. In the banquet hall, where supper was served, the same effects were used, with the addition of woodland fragrance. Rustic benches were placed at convenient distances.

Dancing was general until 12 o'clock, and after supper a cotillion was danced, led by Mrs. William Keyser, Jr., and R. Curzon Hoffman, Jr. Dance programs were used.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hancock, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Kenedel Winslow and Miss Margaret Winslow and Andrew Robson, of New York; Harry du Pont, of Wilmington, Del.; Miss Letitia McKim, of Philadelphia; Miss Elizabeth Morton, of France; Miss Virginia Christian, of Richmond; and Carlos V. Caschis, of Annapolis.

Attend Dinner.
Mr. and Mrs. John F. Wilkins were among the dinner guests entertained at the White House by President and Mrs. Taft last Tuesday. Mrs. Wilkins was before her marriage Miss Julia Harris, of this city. Says the Washington Post:

"The President and Mrs. Taft entertained at the second of the state dinners of the winter Tuesday night, when the representatives of thirty-eight powers were their guests. The dinner, which is given annually in compliment to the diplomatic corps, is one of the brilliant functions of the winter. There were seventy-five guests at last night's dinner, which was served at a crescent-shaped table in the state dining-room. The table was elaborately decorated with orchids and ferns. The Marine Band played during the dinner, and at its conclusion Miss Ruth Draper entertained the President and Mrs. Taft and their guests in the east room with a program of original monologues."

The marriage of Miss Jessie Southworth, of Gloucester County, and James Morrison, of Powhatan County, was celebrated on Wednesday, January 8, at 2 P. M., in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Clarence Martin, on West Main street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Potts, of Monument Methodist Episcopal Church. Mr. and Mrs. Morrison left immediately after the ceremony for their future home at Huguenot Springs.

In and Out of Town.

TOPREPREPAREPLANS FOR Y. M. C. A. HOME

Newly-Elected Board of Directors Will Lose No Time in Matter.

PUBLIC SUFFRAGE MEETING

Will Be Addressed by Miss Johnston—Captain Ragland's Condition Favorable.

The Times-Dispatch Bureau.
5 Bollingbrook Street.
(Telephone 1485)

Petersburg, Va., January 10.—The newly elected board of directors of the Young Men's Christian Association, chosen last night, will plan at once for the building of the new association home, for which $75,000 has been pledged. The site of the home is on Union street, nearly opposite the postoffice, on which the old high school building stands—the most eligible lot for the purpose in the city. The title of this property has been transferred to the association and the deed recorded. A building committee will be appointed and given authority to award a contract for building the high school building, to secure an architect to furnish plans for the new structure and provide a way for its early construction. The board will lose no time in prosecuting the good work.

Installation and Banquet.
At the regular meeting last night of Petersburg Lodge of Odd-Fellows the newly elected officers, as follows, were installed:

Noble grand, W. C. Malloy; vice-grand, David W. Hawkins; secretary, James A. Alfriend; financial secretary, R. L. Alford; chaplain, James C. Hoy; J. V. Grimstead, outside guard; J. A. Andrews, inside guard; Joseph Carter, sitting past grand; W. C. Weaver.

After the meeting, officers and members repaired to the Shirley Hotel to partake of the annual supper.

Public Suffrage Meeting.
It is announced to-day that a public meeting in the interest of equal suffrage will be held in this city, on the evening of January 28, probably in the large auditorium of R. E. Lee Public School, and that Miss Mary Johnston, of Richmond, will deliver an address on the subject of equal suffrage. She will doubtless have a large audience. There are many suffragists in Petersburg, though they have perfected no organization and have kept very quiet.

Information from Captain Emmett Ragland, of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, this afternoon, represents him as resting easy and his condition as favorable as could be expected. Captain Ragland went out to Sussex County last Monday on a hunting trip with his friend, Mr. Goodwyn, about six miles from Stony Creek. While on the hunt he was taken with pains in the breast, and on the following day pneumonia developed. He is under treatment at Mr. Goodwyn's residence and well cared for. A trained nurse was secured in Richmond to-day and sent to his home.
